Brief history of the child:

Tenzin Dolma was born in Dingtari Zong in Tibet on 13th October in the year of 2007. Her parents decided to send their child to India because Tibetans inside Tibet has been endangered with the very survival of Tibetan identity due to Chinese rule. Hence she was smuggled out from Tibet in 2010 so that her parental identity could be imbibed to her along with modern education in India. In the meantime she will be raised by her aunt because she has not reached school going age. When she reaches six years old then she will be admitted into one of our schools.

As such Tibetan Children Village has accepted to pay stipend for this child's upkeep through our Outreach Program. This program takes care of most vulnerable and needy cases.

Therefore any help or support for sponsorship of this case will be highly appreciated.
